'SOFT LAUNCH FOR FOUNDATION EXPO '88'

<STARTS>

After several months of planning, the much awaited 'soft launch' of the Foundation Expo '88 web-site occurred in a quiet Brisbane suburb this morning at 10.00 a.m. - commemorating the 10.00 a.m. opening of Brisbane's World Expo '88 sixteen years earlier.

"I've been waiting to do this a long time!", cited John McGregor, former Expo '88 staff member and Founder and Foundation Executive Director of the Foundation. "This first goal of the Foundation – to create a comprehensive web-site on World Expo '88 - shall prove to be an important rallying point for all the other goals of the Foundation, and be a central communication hub for potential members, visitors and the simply curious."

Other goals of the Foundation include establishing a social-networking association, and also a physical and virtual 'Expo '88' Museum/Visitors Centre that can be visited on-line from around the world, and also on/nearby the former Exposition site – the now popular Southbank Parklands.

7.00 p.m. tonight at Cafe San Marco, Southbank Parklands, shall be the venue for the inaugural meeting of the Foundation, where courtesy of a 'live-viewing' of the web-site, the Foundation Expo '88 web-site shall be officially launched in the presence of Expo '88-related VIPs, invited guests and the general public.

It shall also be the venue for cutting of the "Foundation Expo' 88 Cake", and the first administrative meeting of the Foundation, with appointment of an interim executive committee.

For further information on the Foundation and it's goals, please contact John McGregor, Executive Director, at FoundationExpo88@aol.com.
